

WORLD DOMINION

The World Dominion Movement advocates Informed Continuous Co-ordinated Evangelism to reach everyone at home and abroad. Its basis is belief in the Deity and Atoning Death of the Lord Jesus Christ, the World's Only Saviour, and in the Final Authority of Holy Scripture.

WORLD DOMINION

touched Mohammedan population of some 100,000 people still waits for the Word Incarnate. In view, however, of the unfinished task amongst the Malagasy, the Conference had reluctantly to decide that no special workers could be detailed for this work. Yet something is to be attempted by the dissemination of evangelistic literature in their respective languages, to be distributed by voluntary workers. The French Mission, meanwhile, was asked to explore the possibilities of approach to the people of the Comoros, and to appeal to the Government for facilities for work amongst the prisoners in the coastal convict settlements of St. Marie and Nossibe. In the central Christian areas the Churches are to be encouraged to use 'Wayside pulpits' and also to find means for disseminating more Christian literature.

After a hard week of two sessions a day the Conference closed with the central act of faith and loyalty to its Lord. The delegates of all the representative missions—varied in nationality and divided in Church orders—met in the Norwegian church and together partook of the sacred emblems of unity in Christ, the one Lord and Head of the Church. The service throughout was conducted in the Malagasy language. On their dispersal the delegates carried back to their task a renewed sense of vocation and a deeper urge for the completion of the task of winning Madagascar for Christ.

Mrs. Finley J. Shepard

The death of Mrs. F. J. Shepard, on the 21st December last, in Roxbury, New York, has meant the loss of a devoted friend of the World Dominion Movement, and one of our Board of Directors in the United States.

In his tribute to her at the funeral service, Dr. Samuel M. Zwemer said :

' This is not the place or the time to speak of her fame as a philanthropist, nor of her career and accomplishments. The daily press has paid a well-deserved tribute to her genius, her multiform and multitudinous activities. We here thank God for her character and undying Christian personality.'

The New York Times in an article about her says : ' Out of her fortune Helen Gould, who became Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, gave with such abundance that she was as the woman of the parable who for two thousand years has been casting her two mites into the treasury. When she was testifying in the accounting of the fortune that had fallen to her she said that she did not know how much she had given away, and added, " but I think I gave away most of it. " '

Our heartfelt sympathy goes out to her husband and family and many friends in their great loss.
